Gas Installation Nearly Complete; Lines are Tested

Installation of all main lines for Benton's new natural gas system was virtually completed this week by the S. & M. Construction Co. of Texas.

The firm holds a sub-contract from Union Gas Co. to install the system.

The main lines were tested last weekend and very few leaks were discovered. The tests were made by mixing an odorant with natural gas and pumping it through the lines.

The odorant, with the smell of a skunk, caused considerable curiosity and comment.

Installation of service lines (the lines that run from main lines to residences and business places) will begin immediately. This work will be done by another sub-contractor employed by Union Gas Co.

Gas will be made available to customers just as fast as the service lines can be connected. It will not be available all over town immediately, but hookups for customers will be made as fast as possible.

By cold weather, however, all the service lines will have been hooked up and gas available to every home and business in Benton that desires it.

Those who have not signed up as gas customers may still do so, but a charge will be made for all service lines over 30 feet

Pronto "Roasting Ears"

with an Italian accent

Pour one 12-oz. can Niblets corn, drained, and 1/2 cup of Kraft Italian Dressing into foil.

It's easier than shucking an ear of corn to fix this unusually delicious corn-off-the-cob for your next barbecue. First, tear off a large square of Reynolds Wrap. The rest of the recipe is about this easy.

Bring together two opposite edges of foil and double fold. Twist open ends tight. That's all there's to it, and they'll taste like you fussed for hours.

Now, heat the "roasting ears" for 10-15 minutes on side of grill (in space not used for meat). This recipe delights 4 to 5 people and there are no pots or serving dishes to wash.

DRIVE COOLER THAN EVER BEFORE!

- FULL CAPACITY COOLING
Cooling coils are in passenger compartment where they logically belong, away from engine heat. Full cooling insured.
- STEADY COOLING
Most auto air conditioners must be all the way on or all the way off, resulting in a fluctuating temperature and humidity. Mark IV controls temperature and humidity by constantly metering the flow of Freon coolant. No on-and-off action.
- FITS ALMOST ANY CAR
—including station wagons and pickups.
- NATIONWIDE SERVICE
Factory trained servicemen coast to coast; over 500 distributors.
- INSTALLED AND SERVICED
by factory trained mechanic, Mr. Troy Bean.

- QUIET COOLING
Mark IV uses two squirrel cage blowers instead of noisy propeller fan. Ideal volume of air is moved quietly through coils and all through the car.
- SELECTIVE COOLING
Setting Mark IV's temperature control gives an amazingly uniform temperature, whether speeding down the highway or temporarily stopped in traffic.
- DIRECTED COOLING
Six louvered jets can be turned at any angle to direct cool air where desired—all in one spot or spread throughout the car.
- GENEROUS WARRANTY PLAN
90 day warranty. No mileage limitation.
